

For my creative exploration I have decided to make my website Ai looking. The background will be an Ai generated image with my own art mixed in it as well. I came to this conclusion because since my topic is about if human art is still wanted with the rise of Ai art, I thought it would be appropriate for me to do something like this. So, I will have art like these two below and have them in a grid for the background.

